READING SUPPORT TIPS FOR PARENTS.

To support reading, parents should read aloud daily, make reading a regular routine, and let children choose their reading materials. Create a comfortable reading environment and visit your local library. Engage children by talking about stories, using funny voices, and making reading active through games or acting out scenes. Model good reading habits by letting children see you enjoy reading too.

Create a positive reading environment

Read aloud regularly:

Read to your child every day to build their imagination and expand their vocabulary.

Create a cozy reading nook:

Design a comfortable and calm place for your child to relax and read independently or with you.

Be a reading role model:

Let your child see you enjoying books and demonstrate that reading is a valuable and pleasurable activity.

Visit the library:

Regularly take your child to the local library to enjoy story time and explore a variety of reading materials.

Make reading enjoyable and engaging

Encourage choice:

Allow your child to choose what they read, whether it's books, comics, or magazines, to foster their interest.

Talk about the story:

Ask questions, discuss the plot, and encourage predictions about what might happen next to deepen their understanding.

Bring reading to life:

Use funny voices, make sounds, or even act out parts of the story to make it more exciting and memorable.

Make reading active:

Play games that connect words with real-world objects, such as finding objects in your home that relate to something you've read.

Incorporate reading into daily life

Find a regular reading time:

Establish a consistent routine for reading, even if it's just a few minutes a day, to make it a natural part of your child's day.

Use everyday opportunities:

Look for chances to read in your daily life, such as telling stories about things you see on a car ride.

Don't be afraid to reread:

Children often love re-reading stories, which can help with comprehension and create a special bonding experience.

Communicate with the school:

Keep in touch with your child's teacher to understand their progress and get additional support
